TriHealth Named 'Top 10 Non-Profit Companies' for Executive Women

Cincinnati, OH (February 4, 2014) –The National Association of Female Executives (NAFE) has named TriHealth as one of the “Top 10 Non-Profit Companies for Executive Women” for the sixth year in a row. TriHealth finished number one among non-profit applicants in the country. The announcement, made today, is featured in the February/March issue of Working Mother magazine.

“We’re honored that NAFE has chosen to recognize TriHealth because of various opportunities, including career advancement, for female employees,” said John Prout, President and Chief Executive Officer of TriHealth. “We continue to invest in programs and services that recognize the diverse needs of all of our employees.”

The NAFE Top 10 companies are: TriHealth, Bon Secours Virginia Health System (VA), Children’s Healthcare of Atlanta (GA), Horizon Healthcare (NJ), March of Dimes Foundation (NY), Mercy Health System (WI), Northwestern Memorial Healthcare (IL), Scripps Health (CA), Well-Star Health (GA) and Yale-New Haven Hospital (CT).

Carol Evans, CEO of NAFE and President of Working Mother Media, says, “The ‘NAFE Top 10’ non-profit companies have gained significant progress for women especially in the areas of salary and promoting women into P & L positions. Women make up the majority of top earners, and forty seven percent of women now have profit and loss responsibility at their companies.”

About the Methodology

The 2014 NAFE Top Companies application includes more than 200 questions on female representation at all levels, concentrating on high-level women. The vetting process includes tracking access and usage of programs and policies that promote the advancement of women as well as the training and accountability of managers in relation to the number of women who advance.
