Parma Clinicians Dr. Marina Cutarelli, Dr. James Saul and CNP Lisa Toth Join The MetroHealth System

Practice to be located in newly formed MetroHealth Parma Health Center

(Cleveland) – Marina Cutarelli, MD, James Saul, MD, and Lisa Toth, CNP, have joined The MetroHealth System. The internal medicine clinicians have provided health care for residents of Parma and the surrounding communities since 1992, with a specialty focus on preventive medicine and the management of chronic illnesses that affect older adults.

Starting December 1, the clinicians will move into a new MetroHealth office located at 6820 Ridge Road, Suite 201, Parma, Ohio 44129. MetroHealth is leasing space on the second floor of an existing building. The office will contain five exam rooms and one consultation room. Current patients will now have access to all MetroHealth specialists, and may receive care at any of MetroHealth's 21 locations in Northeast Ohio. Internal medicine services will continue to be offered, with the addition of geriatric psychiatry, at the Parma location.

"We are thrilled to have these exceptional clinicians join the MetroHealth family," said Karim Botros, chief strategy officer at MetroHealth. "Their long-standing reputation and commitment to their patients aligns with our mission. We are always looking to make access to health care easier for residents of Cuyahoga County, and having them part of our team allows us to help more people stay healthy and get care near where they live and work."

"Transitioning from a private practice into a health system is a difficult decision," said Dr. Saul. "However, we feel that joining the MetroHealth family fits well with our philosophy of patient care as physicians."

This is MetroHealth's third announcement this year chronicling its expanding access for residents in the Parma area. In May, the health system opened a walk-in clinic in the Parma Heights Discount Drug Mart location. In September, it announced plans to open a freestanding emergency department on Snow Road in Parma in early 2016.
