Memorial Health Recognized by the American Heart Association Local Healthcare System Achieves Gold Level Status

Marysville, Ohio – Memorial Health recently received a Gold level recognition from the American Heart Association (AHA) during the AHA’s annual Workplace Health Achievement Index Awards. Companies recognized can receive gold, silver, or bronze recognition.

The AHA has defined best practices for employers to use to build a culture of health for their employees in the workplace. The AHA’s Workplace Health Achievement Index measures the extent to which the company has implemented those workplace health best practices. Companies like Memorial Health that are recognized at the Gold level have achieved an Index score of 175 - 217 points.

The Index is a scored self-assessment based on best practices to holistically evaluate the culture, structure, processes, and outcomes of a workplace health program. Index reports indicate the levels to which companies have successfully integrated a culture of health within the workplace, and offer constructive feedback on where improvements can be made.
